2013 Winderlea Legacy Pinot noir

Sourced exclusively from original, own-rooted vines on the Winderlea Vineyard, these 1974 plantings show what a difference vine age can make. With the silkiest of textures, the 2013 Legacy leads with heady aromatics of ripe strawberry, currant, and orange peel. The palate begins brightly with cranberry and dusty rose, transitioning into darker notes of dried thyme, dried mushrooms and lavender. Mid-palate shows forest floor, blackberry and sweet and sour cherries leading into a soft and delicate finish. (Note: this is the last vintage that the Legacy Pinot noir was made from the 5 original blocks planted in the 70s. Sadly, blocks 4 and 5, made up of the Coury and Wadenswil had to be removed and replanted at the end of the 2013 vintage due to Phylloxera. From 2014 onwards, the Legacy has been made with Blocks 1, 2, and 3 of own-rooted Pommard and Dijon 115 planted between 1974 and 1976.

2013 Winderlea Weber Vineyard Pinot noir

Long time Winderlea followers will know the Weber Vineyard by its former name, ANA. With the first release under its historic name, we celebrate longtime growers and pioneers Vivian Weber and her deceased husband, Arthur. We are grateful that Vivian still owns and sells fruit from this legendary site. As always, Weber entices with its highly perfumed nose and wonderful layers of ripe red fruit, soft earthy spice and even a little cinnamon note in the 2013. A mouth watering texture brings out notes of pine and black tea in the finish. Should cellar and drink well through 2025 and beyond.
